

EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

Resources for Children

If your children are worried about Zika, or if you plan to travel with them to a region with Zika virus, you might want to help them understand what Zika is and what they can do about it. The CDC has created an activity book for children that can help them understand how to protect themselves from mosquito bites. You can download it and print it out by clicking the image below or going to the following webpages.

For the United States:

<https://www.cdc.gov/zika/pdfs/zika-activity-book-us.pdf>

For travel to areas where Zika is active:

<https://www.cdc.gov/zika/pdfs/zika-activity-book.pdf>

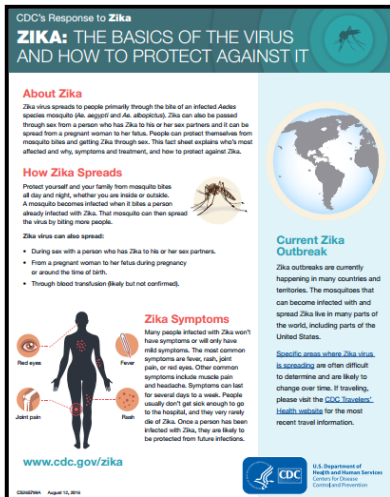

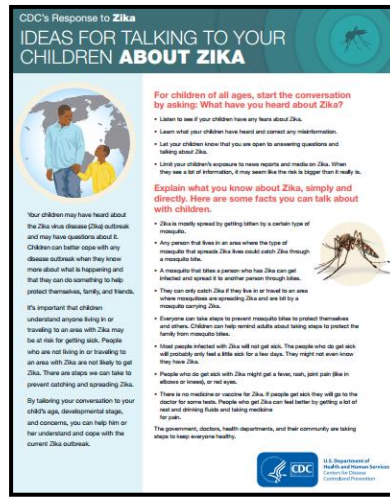

Resources for Adults

The CDC has created a number of educational resources about Zika for adults. Click on the images below to view them. You can also find many more resources from the CDC, including ones in other languages, on the CDC's Zika Infographics and Zika Resources

Zika: The Basics

Talking to Your Children About Zika

What Can Be Done About Zika?

5 Things To Know About Zika

Protect Your Family

Traveling During Pregnancy

The US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) provides funding to US states and territories for the prevention and treatment of Zika. It also funds research that allows us to understand how Zika spreads, and what its effects are, as well as research regarding possible cures and vaccines.

The CDC's website provides an enormous amount of information (in addition to the selections above) about Zika, including infographics, community resources, and information for healthcare providers and state and local planners. You can access that information here: <https://www.cdc.gov/zika>

International Resources

Various international health organizations also provide resources for understanding, preventing, and managing Zika Virus. They can be accessed at the following links:

- World Health Organization: <http://www.who.int/topics/zika/en/>
- Pan-American Health Organization:
http://www.paho.org/hq/index.php?option=com_content&view=article&id=11585&Itemid=41688&lang=en
- International Federation of the Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies:
<http://ifrc-media.org/interactive/zika-virus-ifrc-response/>